Digitally Transform Your Employee Appraisal Process

Foster Employee Growth with our Personal Development App

Regular employee performance appraisals are essential for fostering employee growth, however, these can be seen as a checkbox activity that must be completed, rather than an opportunity to improve personal and organisational performance.

Replace paper-based questionnaires with our digital survey that can easily be customised for every employee. Once the appraisal is complete, set actions within the app. Reminders can be sent to employees and leadership to ensure actions are completed, and allowing progress to be tracked.

Make Employee Appraisals Count

Send employees Personalised pre-appraisal questionnaires

Employees set Personal objectives that leadership can approve

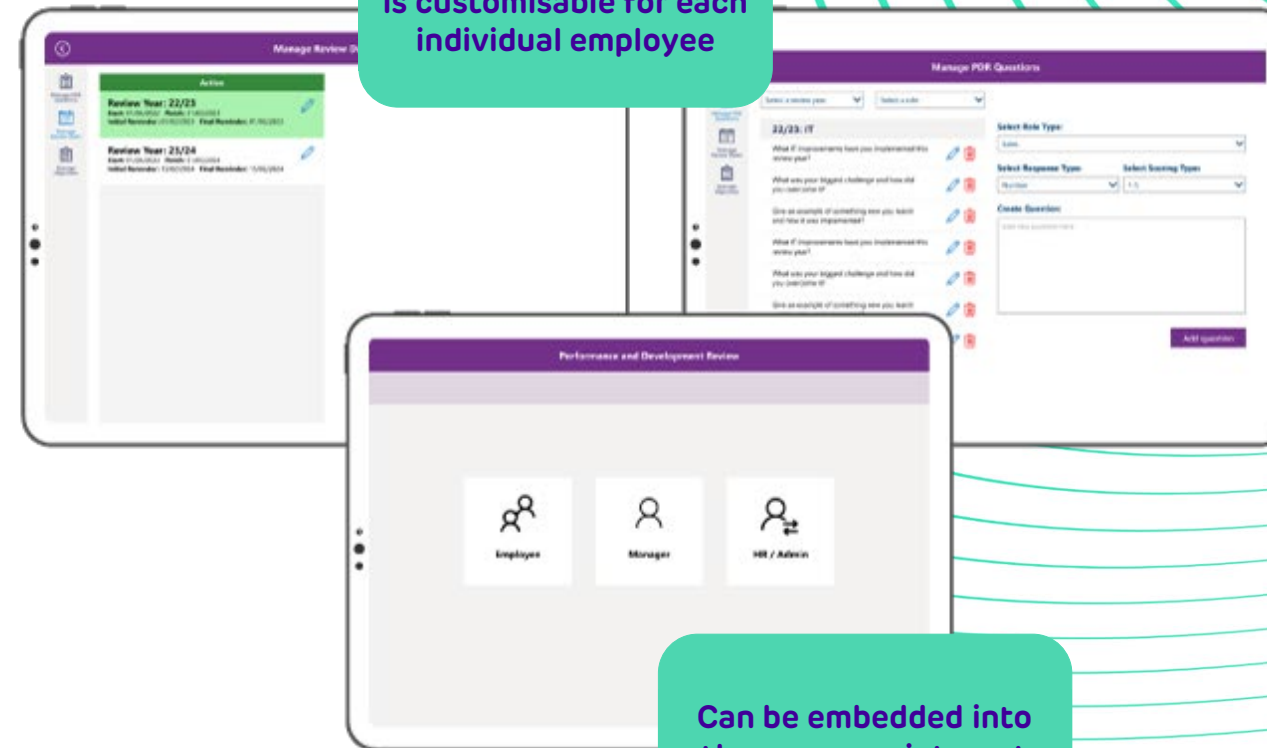

Leadership can set business objectives that employees can link to

Receive reminders to follow up actions

Customisable scoring system based on the question being asked

Prepare for potential audits with a digital record of appraisals

The employee appraisal is customisable for each individual employee

Can be embedded into the company intranet
